

DIALOG No.30 (564) July 27

1) Authorities Set Out to Reform Siberian Chemical Plant

They have adopted “hurry, but do not rush” as their basis. Last week a coordinating committee on reform met. They adopted three measures to be presented to the head of the plant.

2) On July 24, at the Sixth Special Session of the Assembly of People’s Representatives, several issues of the Seversk city budget for the third quarter were resolved.

The Tomsk Oblast Court partially upheld a suit by the residents of the town of Georgievka against the Siberian Chemical Plant. This suit was in connection with the results of “noise” in April of 1993.

3) You Don’t Rule Out Living On Credit.

If there is no money in the coffers, it is time to think about cards. It is possible that, in the near future, the Siberian Chemical Plant workers will be paid on plastic cards similar to debit cards.

4) The Budget Deficit Remains at Eight Percent.

On July 24, a Special Session of the Assembly of People’s Representatives was held to discuss budget issues for the city of Seversk in 2001, specifically the third quarter of this year.

5) Incident With Precedent.

The Oblast Court made a decision regarding the compensation for moral damages to the residents of the town of Georgievka. The court awarded damages in the amount of twenty five thousand rubles for 18 of the residents and then thousand rubles for two.

6) A New Post

By Decree Number 666 of July 9, 2001 by the General Prosecutor of the Russian Federation, Senior Justice Advisor Igor Petrovich Koshel has been named the General Prosecutor of the city of Seversk.

7) A. V. Deshkin: “Severskers will soon be the most polite and disciplined drivers and pedestrians.”

An interview with Aleksandr Dezhkin, director of the highway patrol of Seversk.

8) In Whose Pocket Did My Son’s Money Disappear?!

A letter sent to the Editor of “Dialog” began with this question. A discussion about pay for soldiers in Chechnya. A woman’s son went to Chechnya for 3.5 months and was paid for only 2.5, as were 15 of his colleagues.

9) Malanchuk's Information Bureau: Siberian Chemical Plant Firsthand

Aleksandr Mikhailovich Malanchuk is approaching retirement. He is the chief source of information about the Siberian Chemical Plant.

10) Political Ties

On July 12, 2001, the constituent assembly of graduates of the Tomsk Political University gathered in the leadership assembly hall of the Siberian Chemical Plant.

11) On Removed Wiring and "No Man's" Lines

A continuation of an article published on July 6, 2001. This article deals with theft of electricity in the Tomsk region.

12) Property Taxes in Questions and Answers

A series of questions and answers explaining property taxes in Russia.

13) DECISION By the Sanitary Counter-Epidemic Commission of Seversk

"On the Reduction of the German Measles Infection Rate in Seversk"

14) RESOLUTION by the Chief of Administration of Seversk

"On the Order of Provision of Housing to Residents Relocating from Seversk to New Quarters, or the Payment of Compensation to These Residents."